Dear Florian and co-authors,

I have now taken the time to go through your updated manuscript and figures. I have to say, I think that you have dealt with the reviewers' comments in an appropriate manner. Although, I did quite like the 3D figure! I will rubberstamp the acceptance after the following (very minor) comment has been considered: I feel that it is a shame that the recent, and pertinent, work of Nicolas Brantut and co-authors is not discussed

Once considered (in the form of a rebuttal comment and, if applicable, a re-revised manuscript), your manuscript will be accepted. Thank you for considering Solid Earth.
