According to the suggestion made by Professor Artemi Cerdà, the following improvements were done in the manuscript:

1. The “Field site” section was included in the “Material and Methods” section.
2. A sentence noting that runoff was not found in the dry season was added to the captions of figures 3 and 8.

I have not found any minor remark in the document attached to the last comment. I will be pleased to include them in the manuscript as soon as the reviewer posts them.

A new pdf version of the manuscript is attached.
