Dear Editor A. Jordán,

We have reviewed the manuscript “Conventional tillage versus organic farming in relation to soil organic carbon stock in olive groves in Mediterranean rangelands (Southern Spain)”.

We acknowledge the opportunity of publishing our research in your journal.

We agree with the comments made. As suggested, this improves the quality of the paper. According to the suggestions, we have revised the manuscript. We hope that the new version causes a positive impression.

Kind regards,

Luis Parras-Alcántara, Ph. D.
