

Interactive comment on “Features of the Earth surface deformations in Kamchatka peninsula and their relation with geoaoustic emission” by I. A. Larionov et al.

G. P. Gregori (Referee)

giovanni.gregori@idasc.cnr.it

Received and published: 23 September 2014

I thank the authors for their reply.

I want to stress that I sincerely appreciate their study, and that in no way I ever wanted to make any criticism.

Rather, I tried to contribute with some constructive argument in order to trigger a better feeling about the need for expanding our concern from a mere repetition of conventional seismological techniques towards some innovative and more astute, eventually provoquing, approach.

C997

Cordial regards

Giovanni P. Gregori

Interactive comment on Solid Earth Discuss., 6, 2401, 2014.

C998