Interactive comment on "Identification of Regional Soil Quality Factors and Indicators: An Alluvial Plain From Central Anatolia" by Cevdet Şeker et al.

Anonymous Referee #2

This is a relevant article with a lot of work behind it. However, there are some considerations that authors should take into account before their publication on Solid Eatrh. In general terms, there is a gap of references in the introduction that should be solved. In addition, the section of results and discussion is too long and difficult to follow. In relation to the graphs and tables, I also recommend to the authors to improve the quality of the same ones.

Please also note the supplement to this comment:
http://www.solid-earth-discuss.net/se-2016-138/se-2016-138-RC2-supplement.pdf

---