

Interactive comment on “Tectonostratigraphy of the Mérida Massif reveals a new suture zone exposure in SW Iberia” by Rubén Díez Fernández et al.

Juan Gómez-Barreiro (Editor)

jugb@usal.es

Received and published: 16 February 2020

Authors should present the complete map of lithologies of the area under discussion on which they base their new interpretation. On the other hand, as the concept of ophiolite can be broad, it should be clearly stated/discussed in the text. Besides, authors have to explain what data (petrological, geochemical, structural...) and arguments make authors prefer the interpretation of such units as ophiolites rather than an island-arc.

Juan Gomez Barreiro

Interactive comment on Solid Earth Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/se-2019-189>, 2020.